1 Introduction

- 1.1 The Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) applies to all public authorities and came fully into force on 1st January 2005. It provides the public with a statutory right of access to recorded information held by authorities, subject to certain exemptions, within twenty working days. The Act is fully retrospective and applies to all information that falls within the scope of the Act, not just information created from 1st January 2005. Section 19 of the Act also obliges schools to make information pro-actively available in the form of an approved “publication scheme”.
- 1.2 In addition, individuals currently have a statutory right of access to their own “personal data” under the Data Protection Act (DPA). Individual access rights to personal data are extended by the FOIA through amendments to the access provisions of the DPA.
- 1.3 The Environmental Information Regulations 2004 (EIR) provides a statutory right of access to “environmental information”, as defined in these regulations. The EIR came into force on 1st January 2005 and replaces the existing 1992 Regulations. The EIR are also fully retrospective.
- 1.4 The Government’s Information Commissioner enforces these three information regimes.
- 1.5 Each regime contains certain categories of exempt information, where information can be withheld. Any decision to withhold information under an exemption can be referred by the applicant to the Information Commissioner, who can overturn any decision to withhold information.

2 Scope

- 2.1 This policy covers requests for information under the FOIA. It also covers enquiries relating to matters under the EIR, namely enquiries about air, water, land, natural sites, built environment, flora and fauna, and health, and any decisions and activities affecting any of these.
- 2.2 This policy does not cover enquiries or subject access requests under the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) i.e. where the enquirer asks to see what personal information Northern Arch Learning Partnership (“the Trust”) or the schools that are part of the Trust holds about them. These enquiries will be dealt with under the Trust’s GDPR Policy.
- 2.3 This policy outlines our approach to information requests, details of the Publication Scheme and how information requests will be handled.

3 Definitions

- 3.1 The term “the Trust” is used within this policy to refer to Northern Arch Learning Partnership.
- 3.2 The term “school” or “schools” is used within this policy to refer to the academies which form part of the Trust. This includes QE Sixth Form College.
- 3.3 The term “headteacher” is used throughout this policy to refer to anyone who is employed in the capacity of Headteacher, (i.e. Headteacher or Head of School or Principal) with the delegated responsibility as defined within the Scheme of Delegation.
- 3.4 The term “Business Support Staff” is used throughout this policy to refer to anyone who is employed by the Trust to carry out administrative functions within the schools.

- 3.5 The “Board” refers to the Board of Directors of Northern Arch Learning Partnership and/or its sub committees were relevant.
- 3.6 The term “Chair of the Local Governing Body” refers to anyone who is serving as the Chair of a Local Governing Body (LGB) for any of the schools within the Trust.
- 3.7 The term “public” is defined as any individual or organisation anywhere in the world.
- 3.8 An “information request” refers to any request for recorded information made under the FOIA or EIR and includes both hard copy and digital information including email.
- 3.9 The term “enquirer” refers to the person making an information request.
- 3.10 The “fee notice” is a notification made to the enquirer regarding the fee that will be charged to proceed with the request.

4 Aims

- 4.1 The aim of this policy is to ensure that anyone requesting information under the Freedom of Information Act 2000 are aware of:
- how to make a request
 - what will be provided
 - when the information will be provided by
 - circumstances under which information will not be provided
 - any charges that might be made

5 Responsibilities

- 5.1 The Board is responsible for overseeing access to information and delegation to the appropriate Local Governing Body or School. It is also responsible for collating and publicising its own Publication Scheme about the work of the Trust.
- 5.2 The day-to-day responsibility for the implementation of this policy and the provision of advice, guidance, publicity and interpretation of the policy is delegated to the Headteacher of each school. We will also ensure that all members of staff are aware of this policy and know that all requests for information should be passed without undue delay to the Headteacher.

6 General Approach to Freedom of Information

- 6.1 The Trust acknowledges that, under the FOIA, any person has a legal right to ask for access to information held by the Trust or its schools. We recognise our duty to:
- a. provide advice and assistance to anyone requesting information.
 - b. tell enquirers whether or not we hold the information they are requesting unless exempted from this duty (the duty to confirm or deny).
 - c. provide access to the information we hold, subject to legal exemptions, in accordance with the procedures laid down in Part 4 of this policy.

6.2 We recognise the presumption of openness that underlies the FOIA. We are committed to maintaining a well-managed records management and information system in order to comply efficiently with requests and we will adopt a straightforward approach to meeting requests for information.

6.3 We acknowledge that wilfully concealing, damaging or destroying information in order to avoid answering an enquiry is an offence and we will take all reasonable steps to ensure that records that are subject to a request for information are not deleted or amended by anyone within the Trust.

7 Publication Schemes

7.1 Information which the Trust and its schools routinely make available to the public is included in our Publication Scheme. The Publication Scheme is based on the model scheme approved by the Information Commissioner.

7.2 A copy of the Trust Publication Scheme is attached at Appendix A.

7.3 The respective Publication Schemes and the materials covered in those schemes will be available from the Trust or school offices and on the Trust or schools' websites (as applicable).

8 Making a Request for Information

8.1 The Trust and its academies will only deal with valid FOI requests for information under this policy.

8.2 A valid FOI request must:

- a. be in writing (includes letter and email)
- b. state the enquirer's name and correspondence address (includes email addresses)
- c. describe the information requested - there must be enough information to be able to identify and locate the information
- d. not be a request falling under the Data Protection Act (i.e. be a request for information about a parent or their child)

8.3 In order that a request can be dealt with as quickly and efficiently as possible, it should be submitted by letter to the Headteacher. This can be delivered by post or by hand to the reception desk.

9 Timescales for Responding to Requests for Information

9.1 The Trust/School will endeavour to deal with a request promptly and certainly within the legally prescribed limit of 20 school days i.e. excluding weekends and school holidays. (This may be extended to 60 working days if this is shorter and the request is received on a non-school day).

9.2 The response time will start from the time the request is received. Where further information is required from the enquirer before we can deal with the request, we shall contact the enquirer as soon as practicable using the correspondence address provided. In this case the Trust/School does not have to deal with the request until the further information is received.

9.3 Where a fee is to be made (see Paragraph 10), the Trust/School is not required to deal with the request until payment has been received. If the enquirer chooses to pay any fee by cheque, the fee will not be regarded as having been received until the date the cheque has cleared.

9.4 The countdown of 20 school days will only begin or restart once the further information and/or payment has been received.

9.5 If a qualified exemption applies (see Paragraph 12) and we need more time to consider the public interest test, we will send the enquirer a response within 20 school days stating that an exemption applies and giving the enquirer an estimate of the date by which a decision on the public interest test will be made. This will normally be within a further 10 working days.

10 Charges Relating to Requests for Information

10.1 The Trust will follow the DfE recommendation that academies should ordinarily charge for dealing with requests for information to recover the costs to academy resources that would otherwise support teaching and learning.

10.2 We are not required to comply with a request for information where we estimate that the cost of compliance will exceed £450. In estimating the cost of compliance, we are entitled to consider:

- a. Prescribed costs i.e. the costs we reasonably expect to incur in determining whether we hold the information; locating the information or a document containing it; retrieving the information or a document containing it; and extracting the information from a document containing it. This includes staff time at £25 per hour (excluding time needed to consider whether the information requested is exempt from disclosure or in redacting documents).
- b. Communication costs i.e. costs we expect to directly and reasonably incur in informing the enquirer whether we hold the information and communicating the information to the enquirer, including reproducing any document containing the information (e.g. printing or photocopying) or postage.

10.3 If our estimated cost of complying with a request does not exceed £450, we are entitled to charge the actual communication costs incurred by us, but not the prescribed costs.

10.4 If our estimated cost of complying with a request does exceed £450, we will advise the enquirer accordingly and stating what, if any, information can be provided for under £450 and/or suggest a narrowed version of the request that could be handled within this limit. Should the enquirer wish us to provide the information as initially requested, we are entitled to charge:

- the estimated costs of compliance with the request
- the actual communication costs; and
- staff time, at £25 per hour per person, spent on the activities included under communication costs

10.5 If a fee is payable, we will notify the enquirer as soon as practicable (the “fees notice”). The fee notice will state the amount we will charge and advise the enquirer how they can pay. If we do not receive payment within three months of issuing the enquirer with the fees notice, we are no longer obliged to respond to the request.

11 Right to Refuse to Comply With a Request for Information

11.1 There are only four reasons we may refuse to comply with a valid request for information under the FOI:

- a. The information is not held by us. Once we have received a request, we will ascertain whether we hold the information requested. “Holding” information means information relating to the business of the Trust or a School within it that we have created, received from another body or person, or is held by another body on our behalf. If, after reasonable enquiry, we are able to confirm that we do not hold the information requested, we will advise the enquirer accordingly using the correspondence address provided.

- b. The cost threshold is reached (£450). See 'Charges relating to requests for information' in Paragraph 10.
 - c. The request is considered vexatious or repeated. There is no obligation on us to comply with vexatious requests. This is a request designed to cause inconvenience, harassment or expense rather than to obtain information, and would require a substantial diversion of resources or would otherwise undermine our work.
 - d. One or more of the exemptions apply. There are more than 20 exemptions (see Appendix B). Where the potential exemption is a qualified exemption, we will also consider the public interest test to identify if the public interest in applying the exemption outweighs the public interest in disclosing it.
- 11.2 Each case will be considered on its merits and we will maintain records on any refusals made and the reasons for them. Records will be retained for 5 years in accordance with statutory guidance.
- 11.3 If we refuse to provide the information, we will notify the enquirer in writing, explaining:
- the fact that we cannot provide the information asked for
 - which exemption(s) we believe apply
 - why the exemption(s) apply to this enquiry (if it is not self-evident)
 - reasons for refusal if based on cost of compliance
 - in the case of qualified exemptions, how we have applied the public interest test, specifying the public interest factors taken into account before reaching the decision
 - reasons for refusal on vexatious or repeated grounds
 - our complaints procedure

12 Exemptions

- 12.1 There are two general categories of exemptions:
- a. Absolute: where there is no requirement to confirm or deny that the information is held, disclose the information or consider the public interest test; and
 - b. Qualified: where, even if an exemption applies, there is a duty to consider the public interest in disclosing information.
- 12.2 Even when an exemption applies:
- we will still provide the requester with reasonable advice and assistance, including suggesting an amended version of the request
 - we can decide to ignore the exemption and release the information taking into account all the facts of the case

13 Public Interest Test

- 13.1 Having established that a qualified exemption(s) definitely applies to a particular case, we are then required to carry out a public interest test to identify whether the public interest in applying the exemption outweighs the public interest in disclosing it. Unless it is in the public interest to withhold the information, we are required to release it.
- 13.2 What is in the public interest is not necessarily the same as that which may be of interest to the public. It may be irrelevant that a matter may be the subject of public curiosity.

13.3 Factors that might be taken into account when weighing the public interest include:

a. For Disclosure

- Is disclosure likely to increase access to information held by us?
- Is disclosure likely to give the reasons for a decision or allow individuals to understand decisions affecting their lives or assist them in challenging those decisions?
- Is disclosure likely to improve our accountability and transparency in the use of public funds and help to show that we obtain value for money?
- Is disclosure likely to contribute to public debate and assist the understanding of existing or proposed policy?
- Is disclosure likely to increase public participation in decision-making?
- Is disclosure likely to increase public participation in political processes in general?
- Is disclosure likely to bring to light information affecting public safety?
- Is disclosure likely to reduce further enquiries on the topic?

b. Against Disclosure

- Is disclosure likely to distort public reporting or be misleading because it is incomplete?
- Is premature disclosure likely to prejudice fair scrutiny, or release sensitive issues still on the internal agenda or evolving?
- Is disclosure likely to cause unnecessary public alarm or confusion?
- Is disclosure likely to seriously jeopardise our legal or contractual position?
- Is disclosure likely to infringe other legislation e.g. Data Protection Act?
- Is disclosure likely to create a controversial precedent on the release of information or impair our ability to obtain information in the future?
- Is disclosure likely to adversely affect our proper functioning and discourage openness in expressing opinions?
- If a large amount of information on the topic has already been made available, would further disclosure shed anymore light or serve any useful purpose?

13.4 In considering the above, we acknowledge that:

- a. the fact that the information is technical, complex to understand and may be misunderstood may not of itself be a reason to withhold information.
- b. potential or actual embarrassment to, or loss of confidence in, the Trust and/or its schools, staff or governors is NOT a valid factor.
- c. the potential harm of releasing information will reduce over time and will therefore be considered at the time the request is made rather than by reference to when the relevant decision was originally taken.
- d. the balance of the public interest in disclosure cannot always be decided on the basis of whether the disclosure of particular information would cause harm, but on certain higher order considerations such as the need to preserve confidentiality of internal discussions.
- e. a decision not to release information may be perverse i.e. would a decision to withhold information because it is not in the public interest to release it, itself result in harm to public safety, the environment or a third party?

13.5 Where the balance of the public interest lies in disclosure or the factors are equally balanced, we will normally favour disclosure and the information requested made available.

14 The Duty to Confirm or Deny

14.1 A person applying for information has the right to be told if the information requested is held, and if that is the case to have the information sent (subject to any of the exemptions).

- 14.2 We do not have to confirm or deny if:
- the exemption is an absolute exemption, or
 - in the case of qualified exemptions, confirming or denying would itself disclose exempted information

15 Consultation with Third Parties

15.1 Consultation with third parties may be required if their interests could be affected by release of the information requested, and any such consultation may influence the decision.

15.2 Consultation will be necessary where:

- disclosure of information may affect the legal rights of a third party, such as the right to have certain information treated in confidence or rights under Article 8 of the European Convention on Human Rights
- the views of the third party may assist us to determine if information is exempt from disclosure, or
- the views of the third party may assist us to determine the public interest test.

16 Redaction

16.1 If a request is made for a document which contains exempt information (for example, it contains personal information about a third party whose release to a third party would breach the Data Protection Act), the document may be issued by blanking out the relevant exempt information. This process is known as redacting.

16.2 The general procedure for redaction is:

- the exempt information will be masked and then photocopied so nothing shows through;
- an annotation will be provided in the margin against each redaction, stating which exemption and section of the Act applies.

17 Complaints

17.1 Any comments or complaints relating to freedom of information requests will be dealt with through our normal complaints procedure.

17.2 If on investigation our original decision is upheld, then the enquirer has the right to appeal to the Information Commissioner's Office (ICO). Appeals should be made in writing to the ICO. They can be contacted at:

18 Breaches of the Policy

- 18.1 It is the responsibility of all employees, directors and governors of the Trust to familiarise themselves with the contents of this policy and to note where a responsibility within the policy is assigned or delegated to them. Failure to follow the financial controls set out in the policy may lead to appropriate training and/or disciplinary proceedings which will be conducted according to the relevant Disciplinary Policy or Code of Conduct for Directors and Governors.
- 18.2 Anyone responsible for releasing information under this policy should ensure that they have read and applied the appropriate exemptions and/or carried out the relevant redaction to ensure the rights of others are not compromised under the Data Protection Act. Failure to apply the policy correctly may lead to a data breach investigation and disciplinary proceedings.

- 21.2 Northern Arch Learning Partnership will strive to provide datasets in a format that is capable of re-use as stated as desirable in the Secretary of State’s Code of Practice on the discharge of public authorities’ functions under part 1 of the Freedom of Information Act, i.e. “were software programs can easily read and extract specific data and based on open standards, meaning it is accessible regardless of the technology it is being viewed on”. There is no requirement within the Act or the Code for the Trust or its Schools to create datasets where they do not exist, or to update datasets if they would not otherwise be updated as part of the Trust/School’s normal functions.

Appendix 2 – Exemptions

ABSOLUTE EXEMPTIONS

Those which are most likely to be used are marked with an *:

1. Information accessible to the enquirer by other means (FOIA Section 21)

If information is reasonably accessible to the enquirer by a route other than the FOIA, it is exempt information. This is the case even if the enquirer would have to pay for the information under that alternative route. This exemption will include cases where the information is available via the Publication Scheme or under other legislation, such as the Data Protection Act 1998.

2. Personal information (FOIA Section 40) (see also the qualified exemption part of Section 40). Where enquirers ask to see information about themselves, this is exempt under the Act because it is covered by the Data Protection Act.

4. Information provided in confidence (FOIA Section 41).

This relates to information obtained from a person if its disclosure would constitute a breach of confidence actionable in law by that, or another, person.

5. Prohibitions on disclosure (FOIA Section 44).

Information is exempt where its disclosure is prohibited under any other legislation by order of a court or where it would constitute a contempt of court or where it is incompatible with any EC obligation.

6. Information supplied by, or relating to, bodies dealing with security matters (FOIA Section 23) (see also qualified exemption under FOIA Section 24 on national security). This applies to information directly or indirectly supplied by, or relating to, bodies dealing with security matters such as GCHQ, MI5, MI6, Special Forces and the National Criminal Intelligence Service.

7. Parliamentary Privilege (FOIA Section 34). This exempts information if it is required for the purpose of avoiding an infringement of the Parliamentary privilege.

8. Prejudice to the effective conduct of public affairs (FOIA Section 36) (see also the qualified exemption part of FOIA Section 36). This relates to the maintenance of the collective responsibility of Ministers.

QUALIFIED EXEMPTIONS

Where a qualified exemption applies, there is an additional duty to consider the public interest in confirming or denying that the information exists and in disclosing information.

Those which are most likely to be used are marked with an *:

1. Personal information (FOIA Section 40) (see also the absolute exemption part of FOIA Section 40).

Where the information concerns a third party, it is exempt if its disclosure would contravene the Data Protection Act 1998, or the data protection principles; or if the person to whom the information relates would not have a right of access to it because it falls under one of the exemptions to the Data Protection Act 1998. The duty to confirm or deny does not arise in relation to this information if doing so would be incompatible with any of the above.

2. Legal professional privilege (FOIA Section 42)

Legal professional privilege covers any advice given by legal advisers, solicitors and barristers especially with regard to potential litigation. Generally, such information will be privileged. This exemption covers all such information where a claim to legal professional privilege can be maintained in legal proceedings. The duty to confirm or deny does not arise where to do so would involve the disclosure of such information.

3. Information intended for future publication (FOIA Section 22)

If at the time the request was made, information is held with a view to publication, then it is exempt from disclosure if it is reasonable that it should not be disclosed until the intended date of publication. This could apply for instance to statistics published at set intervals, for example annually or where information is incomplete and it would be inappropriate to publish prematurely.

Note the following:-

- the intended publication does not have to be by the school, it can be by another person or body on behalf of the school
- the date of publication does not have to be known, it could be at some future date (although it is recommended that some idea of a likely date is given)
- the duty to confirm or deny does not apply if to do so would involve the disclosure of any of the relevant information

4. Investigations and proceedings conducted by public authorities (FOIA Section 30). Information is exempt if it has at any time been held by us for the purposes of criminal investigations or proceedings, such as determining whether a person should be charged with an offence or whether a charged person is guilty, or investigations which may lead to a decision to institute criminal proceedings. The duty to confirm or deny does not apply to such information.

5. Law enforcement (FOIA Section 31) (Information which is not exempt under Section 30).

Investigations and Proceedings, may be exempt under this exemption in the event that disclosure would, or would be likely to, prejudice the following among others:

- a. the prevention or detection of crime
- b. the apprehension or prosecution of offenders
- c. the administration of justice
- d. the exercise of functions such as ascertaining if a person has broken the law, is responsible for improper conduct, whether circumstances justify regulatory action, ascertaining a person's fitness or competence in relation to their profession, ascertaining the cause of an accident or protecting or recovering charities or its properties
- e. any civil proceedings brought by us or on our behalf which arise out of an investigation carried out for any of the purposes mentioned above.

The duty to confirm or deny does not arise where prejudice would result to any of these matters.

6. Health and Safety (FOIA Section 38)

Information is exempt if its disclosure would or would be likely to endanger the safety or physical or mental health of any individual. The duty to confirm or deny does not arise where prejudice would result.

6. Commercial interests* (FOIA Section 43)

Information is exempt if it constitutes a trade secret or would be likely to prejudice the commercial interests of any person or body (including the Trust or its Schools).

8. Environmental information (FOIA Section 39)

Information is exempt under FOI where it is covered by the Environmental Information Regulations. Environmental information can cover information relating to: air, water, land, natural sites, built environment, flora and fauna, and health. It also covers all information relating to decisions or activities affecting any of these. However, such requests will normally be dealt with under similar principles to those set out in the policy.

- 9. Audit Functions (FOIA Section 33)
Information is exempt if its disclosure would, or would be likely to, prejudice the exercise of an authority's functions in relation to the audit of the accounts of other public authorities. It does not apply to internal audit reports.
- 10. Formulation of government policy (FOIA Section 35)
Information held is exempt information if it relates to the formulation or development of government policy, ministerial communications, advice by Law Officers (e.g. Attorney General) and the operation of any Ministerial private office.
- 11. National security (FOIA Section 24) (see also absolute exemption 23) Information is exempt for the purposes of safeguarding national security.
- 12. Defence (FOIA Section 26)
Information is exempt if its disclosure would prejudice the defence of the UK.
- 13. International relations (FOIA Section 27)
Information is exempt if its disclosure would or would be likely to, prejudice relations between the UK and any other state, international organisation.
- 14. Relations within the United Kingdom (FOIA Section 28)
Information is exempt if its disclosure would or would be likely to, prejudice relations between any administration in the UK i.e. the Government, Scottish Administration, Northern Ireland Assembly, or National Assembly of Wales.
- 15. The economy (FOIA Section 29)
Information is exempt if its disclosure would, or would be likely to, prejudice the economic or financial interests of the UK.
